

Breakfast with the Jenses

by Vocaloidstars

It was 9 am when the little creature called for it's currently sleeping perent.
The door opened slietly and quick foot steps went towards the large bed.
"Daddy!"
Nothing.
"Daddy! Wake up all ready!"
Movement was shown.
"huuuuhhhhh."

The little living alarm clock climbed on to the bed, looking at the grown man's face with curiosity while slowly placing a small hand on a robotic arm.
"Come on, Mummy wants you down stairs for breakfast." It whispers quietly.
More movement.
"Uuummm. What is my reward for this?"
The man sleeply says against the soft, white pillow with eyes still closed.
"Well, I am sure that Mummy will give you a kiss on the cheek. There are pancakes! Hurry so they won't get cold! Come oon!"
The little human shakes the robotic arm frantically while giggling.

"Ok then, I'm getting up, tell your mum that i will be down in 15 minutes tops." He says while slowly sitting up and smiling gently to his child through golden, loving eyes.

The child smiles, "Yay! I will tell him now! See you down stairs!" The infant hugs the augmented father and after recieving a kiss on the forehead, it jumped off the bed and happily ran out of the room. Giggles could be heard in the distance and the faint sent of pancakes that was currently being made.

Adam rubbed his head in a attempt to fully wake up.
'A quick shower should solve the problem' he thought while yawning and scratching his small, pointy beard.
He pushed the blanket off and stood up slowly, making sure to maintain his balance.
Adam then stretched his body and walked into the bathroom while yawning again.

"Daddy said that he will be down in 15 minutes tops!"
The infant stated happily while smiling towards the currently cooking mother.
"Well he better be down soon otherwise his pancakes will get cold! I bet he is having a shower now."
A moment of silence (aside from the sizzling noise from the cooking pancakes) and water could be heard coming from upstairs.
"I thought so." The mother said while smiling down to the child.
"Hehe, i told Daddy that he will get a kiss on the cheek if he gets up." The little monster said with a big cheeky smile.

"Oh really? We shall see about that." He says while carefully flipping the pancake over and gently smiling.

6 minutes later and three pancakes was produced with a golden syrup topping.

"Here you go love." Francis says to his child while placing the full plate of food down on the table.

"Yayyy!"

Francis watched his little miracle eat breakfast quite cleanly, he has taught his child well.

Only 4 minutes later did the proud father walk into the kitchen with damp hair.

"Good morning." He said while walking over to his son and husband.

"Good morning love."

"Good mornin' Daddy!"

Both was said at the same time with smiles, Adam could not help but chuckle and smile at the situation.

He patted his son on the head and walked over to hug his husband around the waist.

"Making pancakes i see."

"Well done. I have nearly finished making yours now."

"Huuuummmm." Adam lowers his head against Francis's neck and breaths in the sent of him.

"I heard that i would get a kiss on the cheek if i come down."

"Oh yes, how could i forget, here."

He turns his head and kisses Adam on the lips.

"Ewww, come ooon, heehee!" Shouted their energetic son while cutting another bit of his pancake.

Both parents chuckled.

"Go and sit down, i will bring your plate over in a minute."

Adam follows his command and sits down next to his son.

He sees syrup on his child's face so he wipes it off with a clean table cloth that was lying in the middle of the table.

"heehee." giggles his adorable 4 year old son, Andrew.

He replies by smiling lovingly.

Francis then walkes over and places the plate of food infront of his newly awakened husband.

"Here you go."

"Thank you love."

Francis then made two pancakes with tuna and butter for his self and joined his eating troopers.

Characters not mine.... expect Andrew.

This is a side story i guess... mpreg implied, yayz.

I just love the idea of Adam and Frank having a family together and having children for them selves is a great bonus in my opinion.

Hopefully you like this lolz 🤖❤️
